The Winners and Losers Under Florida's Major Property Tax Overhaul

PUBLISHED
AUG 18, 2026

State economists have estimated that the amendment, if enacted, would result in a loss of $5 billion in tax revenue for local public services—including law enforcement, emergency services, libraries, parks and road maintenance—in 2027 and of almost $12 billion by 2031.

According to the Tax Foundation, an independent tax policy nonprofit, property taxes account for 74 percent of local tax collections in Florida, and local government revenue could drop by as much as $8.4 billion after two years.

Next Meeting:
Wed.,

Adviser invokes governor in threatening to cut state funding from Wasatch County over development decisions

Curiously, he carries message to wrong local government

Governor says efforts to reduce Utah's housing prices aren't working

Are Utah homes for sale still the biggest in the country? Almost

Analysis finds properties listed in Utah more than 20% larger on average than rest of U.S.

2027 Legislative Session housing priorities:

Top priority: “35,000 starter homes by 2028”

- affordable
- owner-occupied
- single-family detached units
- units smaller than 2,000 square feet
- lots less than 6,000 square feet

Secondary priority:

- owner-occupied condos/town homes in centers

Tactics to potentially achieve objective

1. State infrastructure funding and criteria

- a. SHIP first meeting today; AHIG applications open through Aug 31

2. Other infrastructure tools

- a. TIF, changes to PIDs/IFDs/preliminary municipality law

3. "Willing cities and willing builders"

- a. city: lot sizes/zoning/process
- b. builder: build smaller units, deed restrictions for ownership or price
- c. TBD: "pre-approved housing design" and college town housing report (Oct)

4. State preemption of local land use

- a. state intervention in zoning has not yet resulted in more affordability (e.g. CA, OR, WA, AZ, FL, TX, etc.)

What we're hearing from some state leaders:

1. Some cities are good actors and some cities are bad actors
2. Preemption will give local leaders “political cover” with “NIMBY” residents
3. Frustration with city zoning & administrative processes & impatient about housing outcomes
4. Frustration with developers and builders pushing incomplete narratives

Questions we've heard from cities:

1. Mixed-use ordinance for Main Street and centers
 - a. Centers toolkit
2. DA/deed restriction for affordable owner-occupied units with willing builders
3. How to increase home ownership opportunities in existing neighborhoods
4. Small lot ordinance
 - a. UCA 10-21-4
 - b. Missing middle toolkit

*If you have an idea or a best practice in any of those four categories, send them to Alexa at aoldham@ulct.utah.gov

Does your city/town have a zoning designation to allow single family detached housing units on lots of 6,000 sq ft or less?

AI for Plan Review

Is your city/town using or exploring using AI in plan review or other land use processes?
